L&N Hearing Held On Commuter Train

A vice-president of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company is testifying at a hearing Wednesday that his company is avoiding making Mississippi a stop on its commuter train route from Pass Christian, Miss., to New Orleans.

Richard A. Stanley, the L&N executive, was testifying at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing being held in New Orleans with examiner William C. Jones of Washington, D. C. presiding.

Stanley said L&N had answered inquiries concerning the Mississippi possibility, and "could find one who could give definite assurance that such service would be used."

The hearing is being conducted by the controversial proposal that the commuter service be discontinued. The change is opposed by commuters who use the service, as well as by the City of New Orleans and the Mississippi and Louisiana public service commissions.

FEASIBILITY STUDIED

Stanley, last of Wednesday's witnesses for the railroad, asserted that L&N had made investigations as to the feasibility of a commuter service, which the opponents would add business to the service and increase revenue. He said that the stop would demand additional facilities.

In addition, Stanley stated that the return train to the Gulf Coast, which leaves New Orleans at 8:15 a. m., would not prove useful to commuters at Michoud who reside in Mississippi because most employees of the plant terminate their work at 4:30 p. m.

Earlier in the day, R. P. Ethridge of Louisville, Ky., general manager agent for L&N, testified that investigations have proved that operating commuter service between the two points would be expensive to be practical.

He quoted statistics from the year, which was based on an increase of 400-600 users of service in the Gulf Coast area, and said that added costs would be prohibitive.

SEES STEADY DECLINE

He further testified that a trend has been shown in the decline of the commuter service.

Carnival Parade Tuesday

Floater and their titles entered to date for the Krewe of Chicapoula's Mardi Gras Day parade, O. O. Swords, general chairman, announced, are Waveland School, Alaska; American Legion, Mississippi; Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, Florida; Jitney Jungle, Oklahoma; Knights of Columbus Auxiliary, Louisiana; Sixth Grade, Hawaii; Fourth Grade, New York; Third Grade, Idaho; Second Grade, Texas; First Grade, Missouri; Christ Episcopal Day School, California; Annunciation School of Kiln, Arizona; Logtown School, and Hancock General Hospital.

Anyone who wants to participate in the parade, Mr. Swords said, can contact Robert Hamilton, parade chairman.

The parade, which will form at Bay High School at 2 p. m., will follow a route up Carroll Avenue to the beach, from the beach down Main Street where the king, Stan Wilkinson, will pause to toast his queen, Carol Sanford, and to receive the keys to the city from Mayor J. A. Seaford. The parade will then proceed down Main Street to the beach, where the king and queen will be crowned.

Bay High and Pearl River Junior bands and the String of Pearls will participate in the parade, Mr. Swords said.

There will be first and second prizes for organizations, businesses and adult maskers; and first, second and third prizes for school maskers and also a prize for individual rider and group of riders (stables).

MEETING CHANGED

Because of the Masquerade ball Monday, February 10, the American Legion Auxiliary will meet Monday, February 17.

(using the service) has steadily declined during the period from May 1, 1959, to Sept. 30, 1963, inclusive," he said.

He said that there is no prospect of any substantial increase of the utilization of the service, and that once the service is removed, other modes of transportation will be available to the public. He said that bus service and good roads are available to most points on the route.

H. L. Snyder, senior cost analyst for the railroad, told the hearing that net out-of-pocket loss for the year 1961 on the operation of the commuter train was $67,285; for the year 1962, it was $71,331; and for the first nine months of 1963, it was $54,240.

"The net out-of-pocket loss in operating the trains for the year, projected from the first nine months of 1963, is $72,320," he said.

Exhibits at the hearing contained statistics that the average daily use of the morning train, No. 9, dropped from 72.7 in 1959 to 41 in 1963, while use of the evening train, No. 12, decreased from 82.6 to 44.2.

P. W. Kirchner, assistant to vice-president of operation of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company, told the group that crew members operating the trains have been in service many years and that if and when the operation of these trains is discontinued, the crew now operating them, by exercising their seniority rights, may place themselves in remaining service, displacing younger men.

The number of younger employees who will be placed on the extra board if and when the trains are discontinued will depend, of course, upon business conditions at the time, Kirchner said.

"However," he continued, "there is a constant movement from the extra board to regular assignment as the wage turnover each year brought about by retirements, death and other causes."

The railroad is expected to complete its testimony Thursday, and will be followed by statements from the opponents.

MISSISSIPPI POWER CO. ONE OF AREA'S LARGEST TAXPAYERS

Mississippi Power Company one of the area's largest taxpayers, this week made payment of $33,063.41 to Hancock County for 1963 ad valorem taxes. A check for this amount was delivered to the Hancock County sheriff by A. H. Gregory, Bay St. Louis local manager.

In addition, a company check in the amount of $13,288.65 in payment of city taxes was given to the Bay St. Louis city tax collector and another for $1,262.21 to the Waveland tax collector.

Mr. Gregory said that the franchise payments for the last quarter of 1963 had been made earlier, bringing the total for the year to $6,873.53 in Bay St. Louis and $2,456.82 in Waveland. This amount represents 2 per cent of the company's gross revenue in Bay St. Louis and Waveland during 1963.

Total city and county taxes and franchise payments amounted to $56,724.62 for 1963, a substantial contribution to the operation of local government in Hancock County. By comparison, $50,691.32 was paid in taxes in 1962.

Mr. Gregory pointed out that the increase in payments was the result of a continuing program of construction and expansion of electric facilities to meet steadily increasing customer requirements.

More than $2.18 million was paid by Mississippi Power Company for 1963 ad valorem taxes alone. Total taxes for the year, including federal, state and local, amounted to approximately $7.5 million. This required 23.7 cents out of each dollar of revenue received by the company.

CHANGE DATE OF MEETING HOSPITAL AUXILIARY

The date of the Hancock General Hospital Auxiliary meeting was changed from the first Monday of each month to the first Thursday, when the group met Monday with Mrs. Leo Seal, president, presiding.

Plans were discussed for a membership drive, and in preparation for this, a coffee party will be given at the home of Mrs. John McDonald, 504 North Beach, Tuesday, February 25.

All members were invited to participate in the Mardi Gras Day parade.

Those who want to do so are asked to wear their smocks and meet at 324 Carroll Avenue.

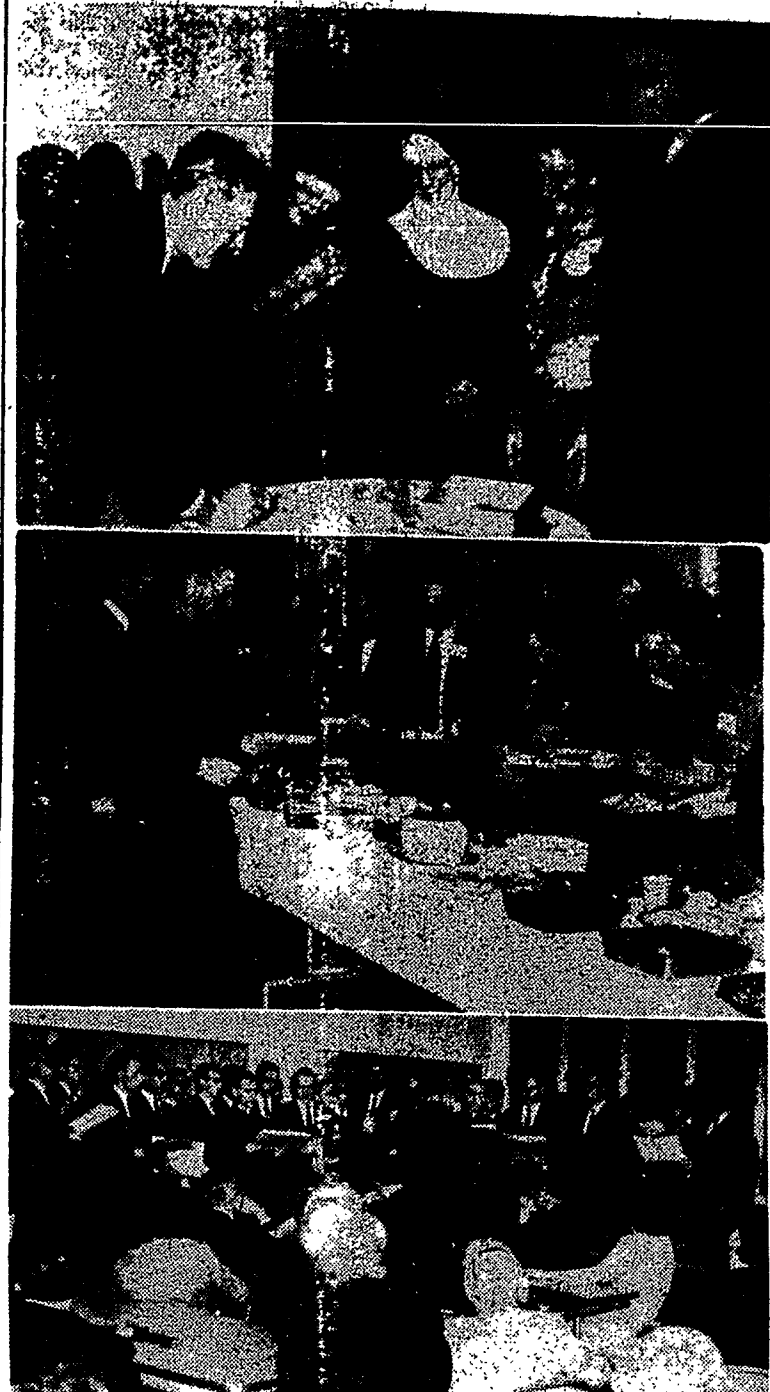

Members were also invited to drive their cars in the parade.

HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION APPLICATIONS

Tax Assessor George Heitzmann said this week filing of homestead exemptions is lagging far behind the number filed at this time last year.

He is urging all home owners to file as early as possible. The deadline is April 1.

When filing, it is necessary to bring car tag numbers, and all new applicants must bring their deeds, the assessor added.

ABOVE ARE SCENES from the first adult social and supper Sunday night.

Approximately 300 parishioners and their friends attended the potluck supper Sunday night sponsored by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. James J. Hannan, pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Church, and his assistants, Rev. Dennis Harlow, Rev. Michael Kelly and Rev. Noel Foley, in the school cafeteria.

Entertainment for the evening was presented by the talented Glee Club of the Oblate Seminary, consisting of 40 priests and brothers. The program began with music, satire and comedy with a bit of community singing. The second half of the program consisted of sacred choral music.

A large banquet table was set with food of all descriptions made from favorite recipes of the parishioners.

The coffee table, covered with an Irish linen cloth, brought back by Monsignor on his last trip to Ireland, held a center arrangement of spring flowers, flanked by silver candelabra holding yellow candles.

Monsignor welcomed their guests and expressed thanks to all for attending.

A Bay St. Louis soldier, home on leave from Camp Folk, La., is in County jail awaiting a hearing before Beat 5 Justice of the Peace Nolan Ladner.

City Police Chief Lathan Garriga said Lazaro Holland Jr., 18, was booked at the county jail Tuesday afternoon on charges of assault and battery with a deadly weapon on an officer with intent to kill, resisting arrest, public drunkenness and disturbing the peace.

According to Garriga, he received a call about 1:30 p. m. Tuesday that Holland was allegedly chasing a Negro boy with a shot gun in the neighborhood of Washington and Third Sts. Garriga held him at gun point for 15 minutes, when he finally persuaded him to get in the back seat of the police car he refused to surrender the shot gun and held it pointed at Garriga's head. After driving about 8 blocks towards the jail, Garriga said, he suddenly stopped his car, turned and seized the barrel of the shot gun, one shell was discharged out the window as he wrestled with Holland and took the gun from him.

Sidney Bell, 21, arrested January 24 by Police Chief Lathan Garriga, was bound over on a breaking and entering charge involving the December 9 entry of Valena C. Jones School. Bond was set at $500.

Dave Anderson, 53, of Waveland was bound over on two counts of rape involving two 11-year-old girls. Judge Ladner said the incidents allegedly happened in early January. Anderson, Judge Ladner said, was remanded to the county jail without benefit of bond.

Oliver Trosclair, captain of the Thomas D. Kirnan, pleaded guilty before Judge Ladner Friday and was fined $50 and court costs for dredging oysters in a closed season.

Trosclair was arrested January 21 by Inspector Alphonse Dorn of the Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission.

E. Bergeron and John Smith, operators of service stations on U. S. Highway 90, arrested January 28, by J. L. Mayfield of the Motor Vehicle Controllers Department, Judge Ladner said, were each given a $50 fine and court costs following a hearing in his court on a charge of issuing incorrect invoices on statements of gasoline purchased by truckers before inspection at the state weight scales on U. S. Highway 90 west of Bay St. Louis.

Mitchell Saucier, also charged with breaking and entering Valena C. Jones School, was bound over to await action of the grand jury following a hearing before Judge Ladner Monday evening. Bond was set at $500.

Officer Garriga said the three typewriters stolen from the Valena C. Jones School and sold in Gulfport have been recovered.

In another hearing Monday, Judge Ladner said Edward Necissa, was bound over to await action of the grand jury on a non-support charge. Bond was set at $500.

A BOY AND HIS HEROES

One of the keys to a boy's character is his choice of heroes.

For a hero is more than a portrait on the wall. A hero is an ideal — a blueprint of greatness.

And where does a boy find his heroes?

He finds them in books and on the playing field... in his school, his family, his Church.

The Church's contribution to a child's gallery of heroes is unique.

Bible study and religious education not only introduce him to the greatest lives ever lived... but they teach him how to build the same qualities of heroism into his own life.

MISS. NATIONAL GUARD IS BIG BUSINESS

The Federal Government is now spending $14,711,800 annually in Mississippi for support of the Army and Air National Guard.

Each year Mississippi Guardsmen receive over 3 million dollars for attending drill in their home town armory. In addition, they receive one and one half million dollars for attending two weeks annual summer field training.

National Guard Technicians who are employed on a full time basis receive almost four million dollars. This group is divided into three sections: the United States Property and Fiscal Office; the Unit Technicians including Organizational Maintenance Shops; and the Field Maintenance Shop which supports unit maintenance.

Much of the Annual Federal budget is spent for the construction of new armories and the division size training site at Camp Shelby, Mississippi. This amount averages to better than half million dollars.

Other items included in the annual budget are gasoline, oil, and lubricants - $180,000; repairs on buildings - $130,000; Unit equipment - $210,000; repair parts for equipment - $400,000; clothing, $300,000; training and travel pay (other than field training pay), $280,000; operations - $300,000; and medical services - $25,000.

This financial support from the Government for the National Guard is a part of the Defense Preparedness Budget. In addition to contributing to the defense of the nation, the National Guard gives individuals a means of fulfilling their military obligation without minimum interruption of their civilian job and education. The National Guard also makes a significant contribution to the economy of Mississippi.

federal taxation to state and local taxes, you get an idea of the total burden borne by taxpayers for the many and varied government services," Oliver Hornsby, Natchez, chairman of the MEC's governmental affairs committee, said.

"Most of us agree that taxation has about reached the breaking point if we are to continue as a free enterprise economy. Only people themselves, acting as informed citizens, can reverse the trend."

"That is the reason the MEC each year when the administration releases its proposed budget, issues a breakdown relating the budget to counties in the state. The factors used in determining the state's share are accepted nationally by the Council of State Chambers of Commerce and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. The MEC is a member of both organizations."

The economic index showing the counties share was developed within the state and is accepted by education and tax authorities as being reliable.

BILL TO HIKE PAY TEACHERS

JACKSON, Miss. - Cost-conscious Mississippi legislators began study of a bill granting teacher pay raises of up to $900 a year - a move that would cost an estimated $38 million during the next biennium.

Sen. Bill Burgin of Columbus and 17 colleagues introduced the bill Monday and Lt. Gov. Carroll Gartin referred it to the Education Committee for study.

Because the state is expected to be at least $20 million short of balancing the budget without the raise, the proposed salary increase bill is expected to run into a hot fight before a final decision comes.

Under the bill, teachers with master's degrees would be raised from $3,300 to $4,000 a year and teachers with bachelor's degrees from $3,000 to $3,600. In addition, a maximum of $200 a year more for experience would be granted.

Teachers are now allowed an extra $100 per year for each of the first six years of experience, if they have degrees. The bill would make this per-year experience raise run through eight years at the same rate.

Teachers without college degrees would not get any raise. Mississippi now has about 17,300 teachers, with only 558 of them lacking degrees. This includes about 14,000 with bachelor's degrees and almost 3,000 with master's degrees.

The average salary in Mississippi is now $3,830 per year, compared with the southeastern states average of $4,856 per year.

BUDGET FIGURE

The state budget had figured an extra $14,676,176 for teachers pay next biennium because of more teachers and more advanced degrees.

The proposal would raise the state appropriation required from $149.4 million as contained in the Budget Commission estimate of needs for next biennium to $188.4 million.

The bill also raised from $245 to $270 the annual maintenance allowance per teacher paid by the state to the local school board to finance teacher tolls. It was cut back to $245 four years ago in an economy move.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan M. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller, Mrs. Al Voight, Mrs. J. E. Erwin and Mrs. Theo Tudury attended the flower show in Slidell Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schafer of New Orleans spent the weekend with her mother Mrs. Josie B. Olson. They also attended the ball at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club Friday night.
